

2.) A.I. is here to take over your ~~jobs~~ stocks.

Hi Aishwarya,

Aakash here from Investmint. A few days back, we launched a new version of Investmint with which you can connect your portfolio, receive real-time stock alerts and trade - all on the app itself. It's exciting, and more than x0,000 people are using it to get a trading advantage.

But, in this email, I want to show you one feature that traders are using and loving (including me :))

I know that it becomes difficult to track the entire market and keep abreast of everything that is happening, every single day.

Hence, now you get a clear 60-word news jist, summarised by AI.

For example, I was just going through my routine stock watch, and noticed that "Greenpanel" stock was crashing down.

Now, usually, I would have to google the stock name, then sift through results to know why the stock is falling and accordingly determine my next steps. But with this new feature, this is what I read:

In one glance, I knew the reason. So simple and useful.

If you'd like to use this too, try it here for free:

(play store and app store buttons)

Thanks,
Aakash
